Incredible Invertebrates

Sat
September 26
11:30am - 2:30pm

Our oceans are filled with incredible invertebrates – like sea stars, sea cucumbers, crabs, and snails – working hard to keep our oceans healthy. Join us for experiments and activities to discover just how human activity affects these animals in their natural habitat. Then, meet some of these animals in person and learn what you can do to protect them in the wild!